

HALAU I KA PONO
PRESENTS
AN EVENING OF HAWAIIAN SONGS & STORIES WITH JASON POOLE

Saturday, January 23rd 7:30 to 9:00 pm

How did Pittsburgh-born, classically-trained singer Jason Poole find himself knee-deep in mud, gutting fish on the remote island of Molokai? And why does he make Hawaiian grandmothers cry with delight when he sings? The journey that took him from operatic white boy to accidental Hawaiian crooner is full of missteps, misadventures and laughter.

Gifted singer and storyteller Jason Poole, has been entrusted with mastering and preserving repertoire from Hawaii's golden age of song. His voice will instantly teleport you from frigid Oak Park to sunny Hawai'i.

Please join us for an unforgettable evening of song, tall tales, and laughter.

163 N. Humphrey Ave., Oak Park, IL 60302
(one block west of Austin Blvd., 1/2 block north of Lake St.)
Admission: $10 adult, $5 child

(708)445-1651

Halau I Ka Pono (HA-LA-OO EE KAH POE-NO) is a Hawaiian school of dance under the direction of Kumu Hula (master teacher of the Hula) June Kaililani Tanoue. Halau means "meeting house" and I Ka Pono means "of goodness, righteousness." Its purpose is to teach indigenous Hawaiian culture and stories through the joy of dance. New Beginner Classes for children, men, and women start in January.
